Any Yearbook, if it is to have lasting significance, must be more than a pictorial story of one year in the history of a High School.

The 1965 Arista, because of the diligence and devotion of its staff and advisors, portrays in wide scope the tradition and spirit of Brockport High School.

The life and pulse of our school is faithfully mirrored by showing the many and varied educational, athletic, cultural and social student groups and activities. The place of honor is reserved, as it should be, for the Senior Class. The hopes and aspirations of the Faculty and Staff for the students are there for the careful observer to see.

This Arista is yours, because it took all of you to make it. Our Yearbook is significant in that it not only represents what you now are, but also what you can be -- "the best."

BOARD OF EDUCATION

The Board of Education is a group elected by the citizens of this school district. Its purpose is to supervise and aid the administration in all matters affecting school policy. This year an especially important duty was delegated to the board. In co-ordination with the Citizen's Committee, the Board of Education made plans for a much needed new high school. It was the board's job to convince the voters of the district that this need had to be fulfilled immediately. The climax to the board's long months of endeavor came when the Bond Issue was approved by a great majority of the voters.

EXCHANGE STUDENT FROM FINLAND

About one year ago, in May 1964, I received a letter, an official approval of my application for this scholarship. A couple of months earlier Mrs. Wilson, the Director of the International Student Placement Service, had interviewed me personally as well as the other applicants from all over the world. After the official approval, it did not take long before I received a very friendly welcome letter from my future hosts, the Welch family from Barry Street, Brockport.

My Finnish hometown is the city of Helsinki which is situated on the Southern coast of Finland. Helsinki is the capital and also the largest city of Finland. There are about half a million people living in it. Helsinki, the White City of the North, has many forests, parks and islands, where people can see that nature is not too far away.

My home is on the second floor of a four story apartment house surrounded by pines, spruces and birches. Our family has a summer cottage where I spend part of my vacations fishing, swimming, skiing, at one of the 60,000 lakes of Finland.

My school, Karjalan Yhteiskoulu, located next to my home, has about eleven hundred students from the ages of ten to eighteen. In this American school system it would be grades 4 through 12. I had an average of twelve subjects each year, six days a week, but some of them only two or three times a week so that my school days were a little bit shorter than here.

Now, when I go back to Finland, I still have two years of school left; this year does not count because of the difference in the school systems. However, after graduation I will probably study at some technical school in Helsinki.

Even though I have lived my whole life in a city I did not find it difficult to get used to this village of Brockport, but how could I have, with all these friendly people at school and outside of school. I will never forget the interesting and happy days of my stay at Brockport High, and all the wonderful people I have met.

EXCHANGE STUDENT TO FINLAND

From August to December 1964 I had the opportunity and great honor of being Brockport High School's first foreign exchange student to Karjalan Co-educational High School of Helsinki, Finland.

My family, the Pöyhönens, lived in Pijämäki, a suburb of Helsinki. My Finnish mother and brother both spoke English and my Finnish father and sister spoke German; so we all got along very nicely.

Kauko, my Finnish father, was the youngest officer the Finnish Army ever appointed to the rank of Colonel and spent three years as Military Attache to the Finnish Embassy in Moscow. He is the person most responsible for making me realize that people the world over love, appreciate, and strive for the same things.

Karjalan Y. K. is well known throughout Finland for its historical background of Russian persecution and also for its excellent faculty and educational standards.

Finns are a proud and patriotic people. They love their country above all things and so long as there is a Finn alive, Finland will remain a free country in every sense of the word.

I am a firm believer in the foreign exchange student program because basically what this world needs most is understanding among peoples and what better place to begin this process of understanding than with the world's youth?

Those few short months I spent in Finland will stand out in my memory for the rest of my life and I will be forever grateful to those people who made my stay possible.

GERMANY

Perhaps one of the most rewarding experiences any high school student can be a part of is being a member of a family in a foreign country. I had this opportunity as one of Brockport's 1964 Community Ambassadors. While living with my German family, the Schmidts, I came as close to being a German as any American visitor could be.

The youngest of my three brothers Georg, 19, and Joachim, 21, were fluent in English. Konrad, 23, found it easier to speak German and my German parents had no choice—they spoke only German. Language really isn't much of a problem. When one makes an honest attempt to understand people, fluency means nothing.

After staying with the Schmidts for close to a month, 23 of us sojourned Germany. During the sixteen-day trip we saw everything from Munich to the Rhine, and from the Ruhrgebiet to the Alps.

A week after the trip, Hanover and Berlin were to fall to "those darn American kids." From Berlin a night train to Paris and an airplane to New York City returned me to "the land of the free."

COMMUNITY AMBASSADORS

AUSTRIA

Austria was my homeland for eight weeks last summer. In that time I learned much about the Austrian culture and history. The Experiment in International Living, of which the Community Ambassador program is a part, arranged a typically exciting and adventurous "Informal Trip" as well as an enjoyable "homestay".

I lived with a physician, his wife, and two daughters (19 and 21) in Southeastern Austria in the foothills of the Alps. For four weeks I lived as a member of their family enjoying a relationship that I had thought impossible. On the "Informal Trip", we visited Lasjburt, Innsbruck and Vienna. Along our route we visited churches, castles and palaces, and many scenic wonders as well as the usual market places and restaurants.

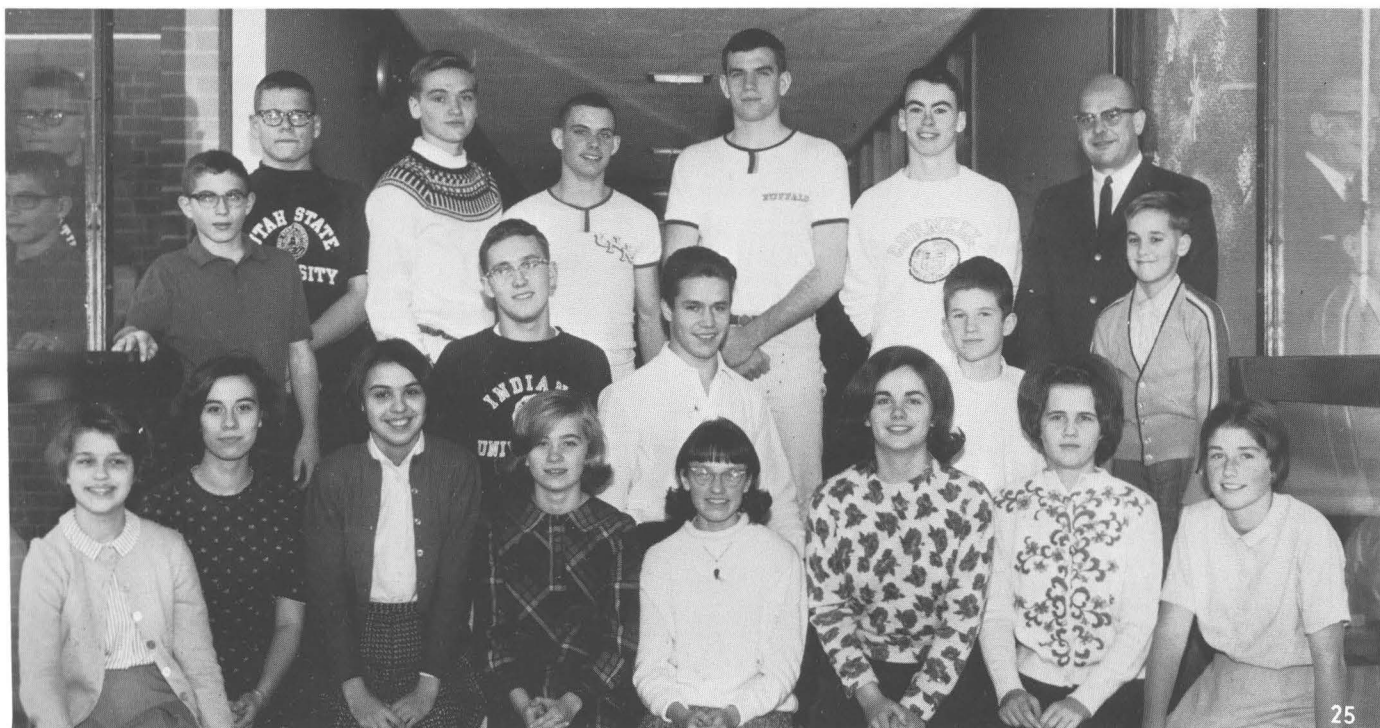

It was needless to say a marvelous summer.

SENIORS

The senior class is winding up four years of hard studying and good times, yet looking forward to college and careers.

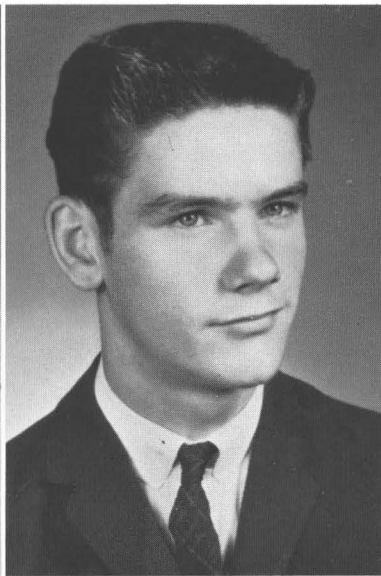

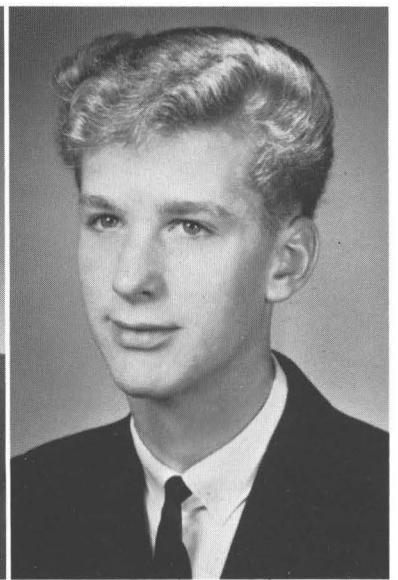

The year has been filled with many social activities, including the senior dance, "Fantasy in Frost", and the senior play, "The Solid Gold Cadillac". The Junior-Senior Prom was another high point in the year for all upper-classmen.

The class of 1965 is sure to make a significant contribution to our village, state, and country in the upcoming years because of its wealth of character, enthusiasm, and scholarship.

ARISTA STAFFS

This year the Arista staffs worked together in hopes of producing the best yearbook ever. The subscription staff carried out its annual drive with enthusiasm; and to help pay for the production of the yearbook, the ad staff sought out ads. The art staff drew the sketches and the division pages, and the photography staff helped with pictures. The literary staff completed the write-ups and the typing staff readied the pages for printing.

LITERARY AND TYPING STAFF: First Row: M. Kretchmer, B. Bergen, D. Kimmel, J. Bave, Literary Editor; M. Smith. Second Row: D. Zastrow, M. Leverenz, Typing Editor; S. LATIN CLUB

The Latin Club members have reason to be proud of their work this year. Through a foster parent plan, they have adopted a five-year-old Italian boy whose parents are unable to support him. The members also save used stamps which, when sold, provide milk and medicine for the children of Bali, an island in Indonesia.

VARSDITY FOOTBALL

The thudding of pads and the shouts, "go-team-go" have faded into the dimness of distant events. But like the deeds of mighty men, the efforts of our Blue Devils deserve recording in the annals of school history.

Seniors, soon after crisscrossing photographic artistry with witty saving, will set this book aside. Underclassmen will glance at it and pass on to another year.

Let us, however, stride with a strong and indelible pen a record of pride for the team of 1964 to fill later years with satisfying memories. Looking strictly at the won-lost columns, the record was good; but those who know the value of the game, who have spent long hours coaching and being coached, know it stands as a proud document of honest sportsmanship.

ALMA MATER

Time passes by; years, how they fly
Happy school days will sometime be o'er;
Love fills each heart, though we must part
With the friends and schoolmates we adore;
Honors we've won, duties well done,
Ready now, whatever may befall—
Mem'ry shall hold for aye
Scenes of our yesterday, and the friends we love the best of all.

Chorus

Three cheers to you, Brockport, to you;
Three cheers we're always proud of you;
We stand united, no duty slighted,
Our service plighted, too;
Love for our colors, as they fly,
Deep in our hearts will never die;
No matter where we be, on land or far at sea,
We'll ne'er forget you, Old High.

we'll probably be together next year in Spanish II,
so I'll see you then.
Be good!!!

Love ya,

P.S. Keep track of
"Gardner" for me,
D. L. O'Brien

Good luck in June in E.S.
Good luck in Span. II
next year. I hope we're together. You're a nut.
Pat
